

TxRC
by

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

DEPARTMENT OF ZOOLOGY
LOS ANGELES 24, CALIFORNIA

24 March 1961

Dr. Joshua Lederberg
Department of Genetics
Stanford Medical School
Stanford University
Stanford, California

Dear Dr. Lederberg:

Next September Mr. Ronald Sederoff will be entering the first year medical class at Stanford. He has been working with me on the dumpy locus since September. I regret that I shall be losing him to medical school because I have confidence in his research interest and performance. Ron can work independently, think critically, and has unbounded enthusiasm for research. Frequently he works at night and on weekends to meet the demands of the large numbers of flies which he has been counting for his pseudoallelic crosses.

I hope that he will be able to take courses in genetics during his free time, and I have encouraged him to do so. If there are any opportunities for him to work in your laboratory with your associates, I would recommend him without any reservations and with highest enthusiasm. It is very likely that Ron will choose a career in research and any opportunities which you can offer to him or recommend to him would encourage this promise.

Sincerely yours,

Elof Axel Carlson
Assistant Professor of Zoology

EAC:cp

I hope he will call on me upon his arrival.

J.L.